

IMMUNOTOXINS DIRECTED AGAINST MALIGNANT CELLS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 The present invention relates to immunotoxins, that effectively kill malignant cells having a given surface marker and nucleic acid constructs encoding them. These reagents comprise a toxic moiety that is derived from a Rana pipiens protein having ribonucleolytic activity linked to an antibody capable of specific binding with a chosen tumor cell.